Der Roman „Station Eleven“ entwirft das Scenario einer Pandemie, die 99.9% der Weltbevölkerung vernichtet. Die Protagonistin Kirsten Raymond schließt sich in dieser neuen gefährlichen Welt einer wandernden Theatergruppe an, die den Hinterbliebenen durch ihre Inszenierungen (von Shakespeares Theaterstücken) Hoffnung stiftet. Die Schülerinnen und Schüler setzen sich textanalytisch sowie produktionsorientiert mit diesem National Book Award Finalist und seinen Themen wie „dystopia“ und „society“ auseinander.

M 1*Two covers and a video clip

The cover of a novel can tell you a lot about its content and help you to get into the novel.

Task 1

- With a partner, describe the cover assigned to you.
- Note down what it suggests about the content of the novel.
- Find a new partner from the other group. Present your findings to your new partner. Then take them to him/her and note down his/her ideas on the other cover (or vice versa).
- Compare the two covers. Which cover do you find more interesting? Give reasons.

Cover 2:

Cover 1: Penguin, found at: www.panmacmillan.com.au/9781447268970/; Cover 2: Thorndike Press, found at: <https://getepic.com/book/station-eleven/>

Station Eleven: Watch the short video clip (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=osXRdUeXCHF>; search words: "Station Eleven by Emily St. John Mandel") and answer the following questions.

"As flies to wanton boys, are we to the gods; they kill us for their sport."

Explain this quotation from Shakespeare's play King Lear in your own words.

- Describe the images you see. What do they suggest about the old and the new world?
- What would you miss most if the world as we know it collapsed?

The end of the world as they knew it

In Part V, Jeevan first locks himself in his brother's apartment before he finally ventures into the post-apocalyptic world.

Task 1

Listen to the song It's the end of the world as we know it by REM, the song that Jeevan repeatedly sings in chapter 30. Describe the atmosphere conveyed by the song.

Task 2

Split your class in two groups.

Group A: Examine how Jeevan perceives the changed world during his time in isolation. Re-read pp. 176–179 and work on the tasks below.

Group B: Examine how Jeevan perceives the changed world when he finally leaves the apartment. Re-read p. 190, l. 6–p. 194 and work on the tasks below.

- Think: Examine the world's changes and Jeevan's reaction. Highlight significant passages in your text.
- Pair: Work with your partner who has read the same text. Note down significant quotations and keywords on your task in the table below.

The world's changes (reaction, behaviour, thoughts, feelings)

- Share: Present your findings to a partner from the other group. Then listen to his/her results and take notes. Compare and contrast Jeevan's reaction while he is still in the apartment with his behaviour outside.

M 9*Listening: An interview with Emily St. John Mandel

Today we are going to watch and listen to an interview with Station Eleven author Emily St. John Mandel conducted by Steve Paikin on tvo.

Task 1: Pre-Listening

Imagine you had the chance to interview Emily St. John Mandel. Write down two or three questions that interest you. Collect them in class.

Task 2: Listening for gist

Watch the interview (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TlxWgtjVHA>; search words: "Emily St. John Mandel: Station Eleven") for the first time and listen carefully to get the gist. What is the interviewer interested in? Choose the correct answers.

The interviewer asks Emily St. John Mandel about:

1. Her private life
2. Her interest in the post-apocalyptic world
3. Her reasons for choosing the flu to end the world
4. Her favourite character
5. Her attitude towards tabloids
6. Her attitude towards Hollywood

Task 3: Listening for detail

Watch the interview again and pay attention to details. Complete the sentences below. Afterwards, compare your results with your partner.

1. Emily St. John Mandel likes crime fiction but ...
2. The author wants to write about the absence of the modern world in order to ...
3. Emily St. John Mandel chose the flu as a reason for a collapse of the world because ...
4. The author chose Toronto as a setting because ...
5. The Star Tribune quotation "because survival is insufficient" becomes a thesis statement of the novel because ...
6. By writing about the absence of computers and the internet, Emily St. John Mandel wanted to ...
7. The fact that tabloid newspapers survive in the novel (featuring stories about Arthur Leander) is meant to ...

"Emily St. John Mandel gives three reasons why post-apocalyptic novels are so interesting, namely ..."

Task 4

Look back at your own questions from task 1. Have they been answered in the interview?

Hinweise (M 15; 18. Stunde)

In der Abschlussstunde erarbeiten die Schüler Merkmale dystopischer Literatur und überprüfen ob Station Eleven dem Genre entspricht.

Als Einstieg können die Schüler Vorwissen zu dem Begriff Dystopia äußern. Die Ideen können an der Tafel in Form eines Assoziogramms (topic web) festgehalten werden. Anschließend teilen die Schüler den Informationstext auf dem Arbeitsblatt M 15 und erstellen eine Tabelle, in der sie zunächst in der linken Spalte typische Merkmale dystopischer Literatur notieren. Danach überprüfen die Schüler, inwiefern die Merkmale auf „Station Eleven“ zutreffen und geben Beispiele aus dem Roman. Ihre Ergebnisse notieren sie in der rechten Spalte. Dies kann in Einzel- oder Partnerarbeit erfolgen.

Die Sicherung erfolgt plenar, entweder an der Tafel oder durch Schülerpräsentation (dann sollten einige Schüler ihre Ergebnisse auf Folie schreiben).

Erwartungshorizont (M 15)

Typical features of dystopian fiction	Station Eleven authoritarian government, oppression, control	The prophet seeks to oppress his followers, other forms of community form positive counterexamples/antidotes, e.g. the community at the airport, characterised by mutual support
dramatic changes of society caused by war or natural disaster	Yes, changes caused by mutated virus
poor standard of living	Yes, standard of living is very basic since infrastructure has collapsed
a protagonist who questions the system	The characters try to find ways to survive; Kirsten fights the prophet and his form of oppression; the Travelling Symphony dares to bring art into the post-apocalyptic world
advanced technology, often used as means of oppression	No, the opposite is true: today's technology such as modern media, internet etc. does no longer exist, seems like a fairy tale
Current trends are projected into the future and cause the dystopia.	The virus is able to spread quickly due to globalisation.

Can Station Eleven be classified as a dystopian novel?

On the one hand, the scenario is clearly dystopian: 99.9 % of the world's population die, infrastructure collapses, immediate consequences are violence and anarchy among the survivors. However, the novel also contains several elements of hope: peaceful communities emerge, that work together in order to ensure survival for its members (e.g. at Severn City Airport); the Travelling Symphony is a group of actors and musicians, who performs for the survivors and provides a sense of belonging for its members; a museum, a school, a newspaper emerge ...
