Basic skills – Business communication: speaking

Using tenses to ask questions in professional situations – Vergangenheitsformen für die Formulierung von Fragen verwenden

Die gelingende mündliche wie schriftliche Kommunikation stellt einen Kernbereich im Berufsalltag dar. Ein essentieller Teilbereich ist hierbei das gezielte Einholen von Informationen bei internationalen Kolleginnen und Kollegen, Geschäftspartnern und -partnern etc. Sehr häufig beziehen sich diese Informationen auf Gegebenheiten in der Vergangenheit. Ihre Schülerinnen und Schüler erwerben bzw. vertiefen sprachliche (grammatikalische) Kenntnisse, indem sie in konkreten mündlichen Anwendungssituationen üben, sich der korrekten Zeitform der Vergangenheit zu bedienen. Mit Erklärvideo, Grammatikregeln und LearningApps!

Mh ... You should repeat the rules and practise the tenses.	Good! Let's practise a little more!	Wow, you are an expert!

Making small talk about the past – Questions in small talk

At work, you often have to engage in small talk before the beginning of serious negotiations and meetings.

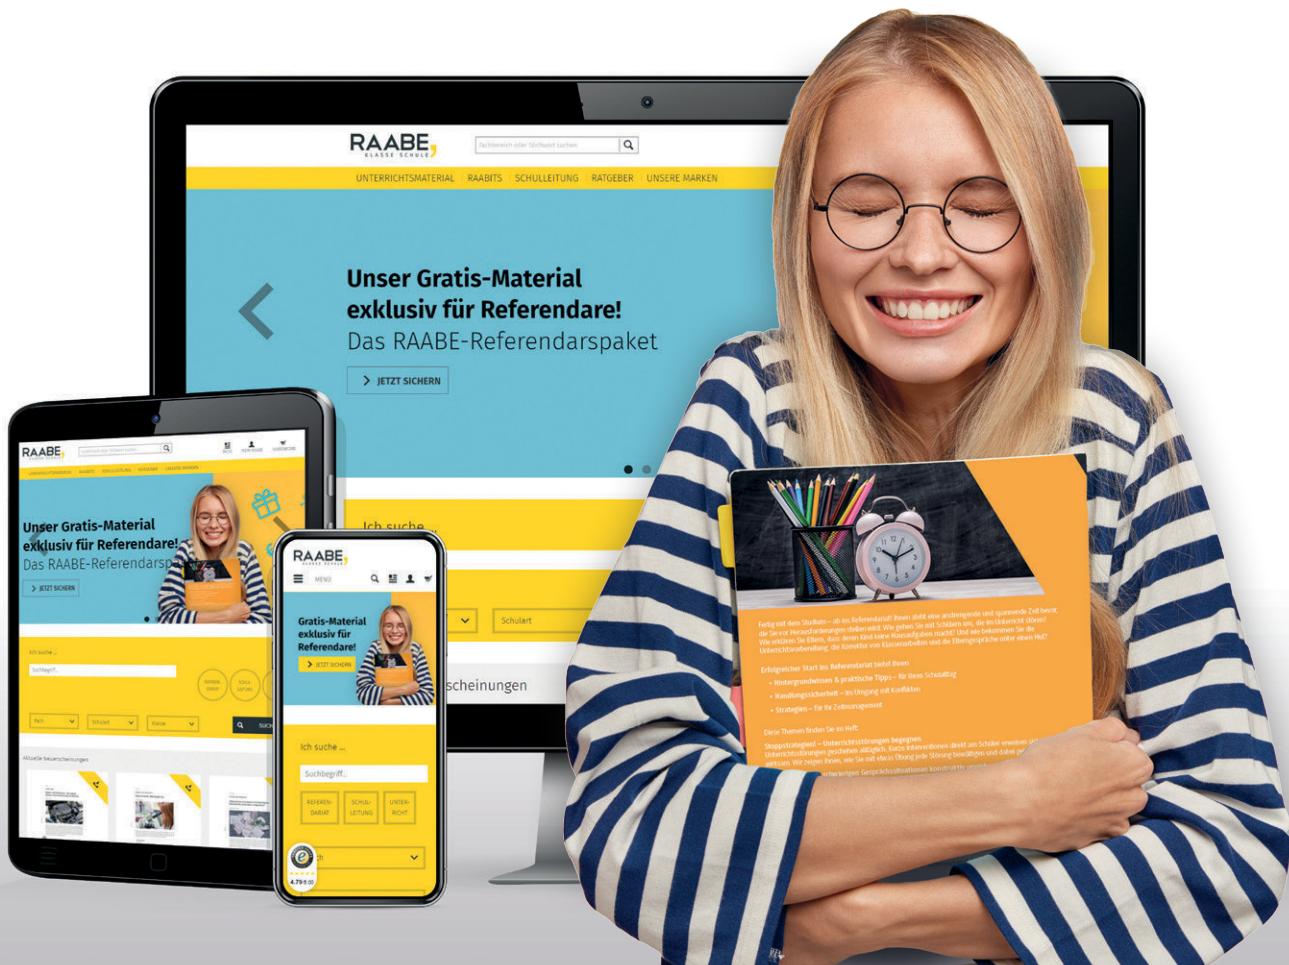

Tasks

- Look at these topics. Choose one topic and write down questions in the past about it.
 - the weather
 - sports
 - experiences from your last holidays
 - arriving at the meeting (traffic etc.)
- Get together in groups of two or three students that have chosen the same topic. Imagine that you must talk to somebody before your meeting starts. Ask questions in the past and keep your conversations going for three minutes.
TIP: If you need help, you can use the speaking cards.
- Then perform your conversations in front of the class. Your fellow students will give you peer feedback. Your teacher might give you a peer feedback sheet.

TIP: speaking cards
