Erwartungshorizont

Literary project in Berlin

Aims

- Developing a network to
 - Provide writers from crisis zones with a platform / encourage their continued writing
 - Make their work known in Germany / help them get established in the cultural scene
- Provide the German readership with
 - Insights into the lives and working conditions of writers in crisis zones
 - Translations of contemporary Arabic literature

Participants

- Writers from crisis areas who are partnered with established German writers
- Mainly authors writing in Arabic

Activities

- In pairs, writers exchange digital letters published on homepage / platform "(W)Ortwechseln" ("(ex)changing words & places"), every two weeks for over a year
- Readings in bookstores and cultural institutions
- Since 2019 magazine "Weiter Schreiben" ("Writing On") published containing writers' correspondence, interviews and essays focusing on personal and artistic impressions and background information on their writing
- Several of the refugee writers have published books in German, others have contracts

Plans

- Further expansion
- Production of podcasts in co-operation with German radio
